BRAD SPEAKS OUT

JULY 28, 2008 $2.99

ANNE HATHAWAY AND KATE HUDSON

Anne smiled from head to toe on location for Bride Wars with co-star Kate.

Happy feet

Anne Hathaway jumped for joy on the set of her new movie — in three-inch heels! The Bride Wars star sported a cute pair of black mary janes from Söfft Shoes while filming. And the comfy Gemma shoes must have fit. She went out and purchased a second style, Calypso, from The Tannery, a trendy shoe boutique in Boston. $80–$100, sofftshoe.com.

Recycling on the run

Now Drew Barrymore and other busy actors can go green and get in their cardio. Just like Alicia Silverstone, Ricky Martin and Sheryl Crow, Drew scooped up a special-edition of Brooks' Cascadia 3 running shoes, which are made with eco-friendly elements. These sneakers get an even bigger eco-overhaul this month with the addition of a first-of-its-kind biodegradable midsole. Conscientious stars love leaving a smaller carbon footprint on the planet! $95, brooksrunning.com.

REESE WITHERSPOON

Reese has worn seven different-color Havaianas so far this summer!

Famous flip-flops

In Tinseltown, trends come and go faster than you can say "That's hot!" but most must-haves have a mere 15 minutes of fame. So even with some stars wearing everything from knee-high gladiator sandals to sky-high stilettos, a few of our favorite girls next door, Reese Witherspoon, Cameron Diaz and Jennifer Aniston, keep it classic with Havaianas, the cult-favorite Brazilian flip-flops brand. It's good to see that some celebrities know how to stay down-to-earth! $16–$25, havaianasus.com.
